

Natalie Salmon

Natalie Salmon assists the lobbying team and clients by covering congressional hearings, drafting policy briefs and presentations, and monitoring relevant legislative and regulatory activity. She also prepares a weekly “Energy Roundup” to summarize the latest news and legislation related to energy policy, and produces “Look Ahead” memos to outline the state-of-play for upcoming congressional work periods.

Prior to joining Peck Madigan Jones in the winter of 2016, Natalie worked as a Campaign Organizer for the Public Interest Research Group. A New England native, she also interned for Senator Susan Collins (R-ME) in both her state and Washington, DC offices, as well as for the Environment Committee of the Connecticut General Assembly. Natalie graduated Cum Laude from Trinity College in Hartford with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science, and she is a member of the Pi Gamma Mu International Honor Society in Social Sciences.
